Who knew that the mountain town of Marion, Virginia, was a regional hot spot for entertainment in the Roaring ‘20s? With the boom in timbering and railroading, Marion was a hub for the speakeasy- bootleggingragtime-jazz-and-jitterbugging culture of the time, while still surrounded by traditional mountain music, moonshining, and old-time dancing. Festival guests will roar into the 2020s and experience this small town’s current revitalization in Marion’s most historic venues. Social hour at the Wayne C. Henderson School of Appalachian Arts will feature appetizers and drinks, plus demonstrations of heritage music and dance. From there, guests will move to the historic General Francis Marion Hotel for a sumptuous feast prepared by Chef Josh Young with a “Roaring into the Twenties” menu that looks both back in time and forward. After dinner, Festival guests will be treated to Kickin’ It: The Crooked Road’s Appalachian Dance Revue at the Historic Lincoln Theatre, featuring The Crooked Road Old Time Music Masters (Chris Anderson, Jackson Cunningham, Jamie Ferguson, Julie Shepherd- Powell, and Debbie Yates) who will provide music for more than 30 of America’s finest traditional dancers: The Green Grass Cloggers, Hickory Flat Hoedowners, Good Foot Dance Company, Junious Brickhouse, Daniel Rothwell, and National Heritage Award winning buck dancer, Thomas Maupin.

EVENT EXTRAS:

6:00 PM: "The Music of Doyle Lawson" will be a gathering of the artists to talk about the impact of Doyle Lawson on their careers and bluegrass music. Free admission.

An impressive array of award-winning bluegrass talent has been part of Doyle Lawson's band over the years. This full-bore bluegrass concert will feature Doyle's current talented lineup and a reunion with several former band members as special guests including Jamie Dailey (of Grand Ole Opry stars Dailey & Vincent), Terry Baucom (Dukes of Drive), and fiddler Jim VanCleve (Mountain Heart). As Homecoming attendees have witnessed in the past, it is always a magical experience when amazing artists like these get a chance to share the stage once again and enjoy each other's company after years apart.

The King Community Center at Southwest Virginia Community College hosts many of the college's cultural events and houses the Jack Tales Wall, a bas-relief wall sculpture made from over 8,000 bricks that conveys images from the iconic folk tales of the Appalachian Mountains.
